Dorothy's FB post from April 9th.

Saw the ankle surgeon this morning. The good news-- it is healing, and the stitches came out. Bad news-- six more weeks before the fixator can come out. May 21 or thereabouts. Good news-- it will just be slid out in the office; no surgery needed. Ho hum news-- then a cast and then a boot. Docs' PA said it was one of the worst ankle breaks he had ever seen.
